September 3 – Work That is Real – Thelma Williams and CVUUF Members

Continuing an annual tradition at CVUUF and borrowing a title from a poem by Marge Piercy, "To Be Of Use", members of CVUUF – Erica Escalante, Andrea Steffan, Anahi Quiroz and Jason Hall - will speak of work they have found meaningful. Please join us as we celebrate Labor Day.

September 10 – Ingathering – The Crucible of Community

Reverend Nica Eaton-Guinn

As we all come back together for our Ingathering and the new church year, we return to two services at 9:15 and 11. We also welcome back Reverend Dr. Betty Stapleford, our Minister Emerita, into our community as a member. How does being in community transform us? Can we allow the crucible of community to teach us how to be wiser human beings in our relationships with one another? Join us for this celebratory service honoring our community and the possibilities for transformation that lay within.

September 17 – Transforming our World Together

Reverend Nica Eaton-Guinn

CVUUF is an extraordinary congregation filled with gifts of member's time, treasure and talent. This Sunday we explore what transforming our world together might look like through our commitment to the Fellowship and the community beyond. What difference can we make as thoughtful, progressive, radically welcoming Unitarian Universalists both within and beyond our walls?

September 24 – Transforming our Lives through Forgiveness

Reverend Nica Eaton-Guinn

Forgiveness can be the path to profound personal and collective transformation, but it must be considered carefully and done with intention. Honoring the Jewish holidays of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, we look at the transformative practice of asking for and offering forgiveness.

Theme – Transformation

Welcome to our new church year! I'm excited to begin our second year of ministry together. Even though we have year round church at CVUUF, there is a UU tradition of considering September's "Ingathering" the beginning of the church year. Everyone is theoretically back from vacation then, kids have returned to school and college, and we're ready to dive into our day to day lives and regular church attendance. That's the theory anyway... Actually, it's worth noting that we've had no lack of attendance and engagement during the summer! We've been bursting at the seams for our one 10am service. Our Ingathering will mark the return of two services, at 9:15 and 11am, and will take place on September 10th.

The overarching theme for this year is: "Transforming our World Together." Each month we'll explore different ways of transforming our world through focused themes. These topics will be reflected throughout our congregation in our worship services, our pledge campaign, in religious education classes, our small groups and social action efforts. We even plan to have a "theme wall" up in Fellowship Hall on which you can post ideas, pictures, share inspiration and answer questions on the monthly topics. We want to develop deep conversations and theological reflection around these themes, so we can grow our connections and really make a difference together. Our themes for the year are:

September: Transformation
October: Healing
November: Story
December: Hope
January: Intention
February: Authenticity (Identity)
March: Courage
April: Abundance
May: Creativity
June: Blessing

July and August will likely be months for creative summer services not based around themes.

Theme – Transformation

Writer and theologian, Marianne Williamson said: “Personal transformation can and does have global effects. As we go, so goes the world, for the world is us. The revolution that will save the world is ultimately a personal one.”

This reminds me of Gandhi's quote that we must be the change we wish to see in the world. Now more than ever we see the importance of character and doing personal work of transformation. Who we are and how we act shapes the world around us.

So what is life inviting you to become as we enter this month focused on transformation? What changes are you hoping to make personally? I invite us to consider small personal shifts to try out during September that allow us to live more fully into our UU principles and values. Can we choose love over hate? Can we invite compassion over judgment? Can we commit to taking a breath over immediate reactions? Can we seek forgiveness over blame; understanding over shame? These are some of the ways I'm constantly seeking to transform. As we explore this theme, I invite you to join me in finding at least one way you might wish to transform during September. Our efforts will have a ripple effect on our community, and our community's wholeness will impact the world beyond our walls.

Here's to our personal and collective transformation!

In faith,

Reverend Nica

I hope all of you had a great summer! Perhaps a little beach or camping, some time to get away and spiritually reload, and of course some eclipse viewing. The coming of September and Labor Day, not to mention Back to School for families and teachers, means it is time to turn the page and start fresh.

There is an awful lot going on here at CVUUF. First of all, our annual pledge drive is now in full swing. Hopefully you will be able to attend one of the functions that the Stewardship Committee is organizing. The Board and I are appreciative of every one of the hard-earned dollars that you are able to pledge. Certainly, every family's financial picture is different, and has its own challenges. It can be hard to ascertain how much you can carve out for your annual pledge. I hope that you take the time to consider all that CVUUF does for you and yours, and what all our programs mean to the congregation and to the wider community. Please think of your donation not as helping pay our electric bill, but as supporting our great mission.

Reverend Nica returned to us in August invigorated after General Assembly, vacation and study leave. One new thing is that we will seek to blend our monthly theme based worship into the wide variety of small group ministries that we offer, as well as into our children's wonderful RE program. Our super musical director is about to return from vacation as I write this, and I really look forward to seeing how he helps Nica create the Sunday worship that means so much to us.

It is hard to believe that a full year has gone by since Nica joined us. I was new as Board President last summer, and perhaps in the early months we got too bogged down in details that demanded our attention. For the last half year or so we and the Board have been much better at concentrating on CVUUF's big picture. For example, the Board has just revised our Strategic Plan. We seek to make this a transparent and living document, that is referred to and revisited throughout the year and not just sit in a file cabinet somewhere. It will be up on the website by September first, and you will be hearing a lot about it in the next month or so.

See you at Ingathering on September 10th!

We're just about to kick off our new year of Transforming the World Together, and there will be many opportunities in the realm of social justice. Beginning on September 24, and continuing the fourth Sunday of each month, we will have a gathering after the second service where we will reflect upon Transforming the World Together Through Action. This will be a time for all of us to connect and touch base. We will see what is going on within the CVUUF community, and outside our doors where we can participate to make a strong difference. A community pot-luck lunch in Fellowship Hall will be at 12:15, and the meeting will start at 1:00.

On October 21, Rev. Kathleen McTigue, Director of the UU College of Social Justice, will be visiting us and leading a day long workshop entitled "Love Resists."

I am thrilled to announce new leadership for our Community Forums. Randall Edwards and Kim Henson are now co-leading this dynamic group. If you are interested in learning more about the Community Forum presentations or working on the team, please join one of the monthly meetings. They will now be held the 2nd Sunday of the month at 12:15 in YRUU.

Feeding Hands is going strong. The next date is Tuesday, September 5. As always, cooks at CVUUF, home cooks, servers, and folks to clean up are welcome and appreciated.

In light of what has happened in Charlottesville, along with the issues of the UUA, we will be weaving the issues of race and inequality in all of our ministries (service, RE, social action); therefore, at this time, we will be stopping our regular racial justice group meetings. However, we are excited to announce that we will be kicking off monthly Justice and Compassion movie nights, taking place the 2nd Tuesday of every month in the Sanctuary from 7-9PM.

The first documentary we will screen is Precious Knowledge on Tuesday, September 12. Faced with opposition to their ethnic studies classes, filmmakers spent an entire year in the classroom filming the transformative impact on students in the Mexican American Studies Program at Tucson High School as they mobilized in an attempt to save ethnic studies. The students used texting, Facebook, optimism, and a megaphone as they become engaged, informed, and active in their communities.

Lawmakers and politicians used a public relations campaign to discredit the students and passed legislation which gave unilateral power to the Arizona State Superintendent of Public Instruction to abolish all ethnic studies classes and ban related books. Just two weeks ago a federal judge ruled that the law passed violated students' rights and showed racial animus, striking down portions of the law prohibiting ethnic studies programs. This film couldn't be more timely.

As always, if you are on FB, please join the CVUUF Social Justice Group to learn about justice activities as they come up.

Thank you for all you do!

Can you believe it? It's September! It is true, time flies when you are having fun. Boy, was this past summer fun!

All our RE classes discovered what it means to experience the Force as a UU. Each lesson introduced a different UU Principle. Discussions and activities used stories and examples from Star Wars to help expand our understanding on what it means to be a Unitarian Universalist. On any given Sunday, you could have peeked into a classroom to see a game of Emperor and Rebel to gain a different perspective on the democratic process, or building their own droids while discussing the importance of the freedom and respect of every person in our society. If you travelled further down the hall to YRUU, you would have observed a neat set up for our teens to watch movies from the Star Wars saga. The movies were used as a catalyst for conversations on philosophy and faith. When a learning opportunity can be fun and engaging, topics are more likely to be stored away in those fantastic developing brains.

Of course, it wouldn't be Star Wars without lightsabers! The first two weeks of September children and youth will go through proper (and safe) battle training. I must give a gigantic THANK YOU to all who donated supplies and time to make our lightsabers possible. This curriculum will culminate at Ingathering with some of our children and youth giving their Star Wars 'testimonials,' and a presentation of our Padawans during coffee hour. Be ready to cheer for them all!

The following Sunday brings us into our new year. We are so excited to begin our journey with Soul Matters. Each month will feature a different theme, which the entire congregation will be delving into. Lessons and discussions in all RE classes will also follow these themes, deepening our connections to each other. I feel this will create a solid base for us to come together with a shared knowledge of who we are as a community, and what will drive us to continue doing the good work we do.

As we consider the year-long theme of 'Transforming Our World Together', this will also be an ongoing process in RE. I am only one, what can I do? This is not a question to be answered in a day, but something to be analyzed, dissected, pieced back together, and expanded. As human beings, we are forever growing and moving forward.

Speaking of coming together, this summer we began holding family events. The Family Garden Party held at the Conejo Valley Botanic Garden is an opportunity for families (and CVUUF extended family) to join up for a fun and easy-going afternoon.

This lovely setting offers a great opportunity to make new friends, young and old alike. The next Garden Party will be held Sunday, September 17. We will be offering more events as the months roll on—parties, craft and gaming events, movie nights, potlucks, and more. We are working on providing multiple chances for many of us to grow our extended family and create strong bonds with each other. If you have any ideas, please send them my way! Our Fellowship is growing. Making lasting connections is an important part of being in a faith community.

Outside my office is a sign, “Church is a place where children learn that people other than their parents love them.” I would like to offer an alternative interpretation. “Church is a place where everyone learns that other people love them.” You are loved. You are wanted. You belong. Welcome back home, everyone!

“Transforming our World Together” Fall Stewardship Campaign Begins August 27

We are excited to launch our fall Stewardship campaign - Transforming our World Together. This year we will have four receptions at which to socialize, share CVUUF stories and enjoy one another's company. At these receptions, we will ask members to make their pledge, rather than the full face-to-face campaign we have used in past years. We hope that the events are fun, help build community spirit and inspire you to help transform our world.

Invitations to the events have been mailed out, or are coming soon. There will be a final event at church on the afternoon of September 24, in case you have a conflict with the event you are invited to. In any case, please come to one of the events, and be prepared to make a generous pledge. We count on your generosity for the thriving of CVUUF's mission. Thanks to your help, we can offer our amazing programs and make a big difference in the community beyond.

To make it easier for everyone this year, we are encouraging electronic pledging. If you want to participate through automated withdrawal from your checking account please bring a voided check to enable that. We appreciate all contributions to CVUUF, supporting our mission of “transforming our world through justice and compassion.

Are you interested in UU community outreach on important issues of our time? Please join us for our monthly planning meetings on the SECOND SUNDAY of the month at 12:15 p.m. All newcomers welcome! For further information please contact Randall Edwards (randalledwards1@yahoo.com) or Kim Henson (kimhen43@gmail.com) or just come September 10th!

No Experience Needed!

We need someone to usher the first Sunday, second service and fifth Sunday second service. You'll be one of the first members to greet visitors and members alike, pass out orders of service, take the collection and pass out News and Notes at the end of the service. This is a once a month commitment. If you are interested, please contact Jo Ann Van Reenan, vanreenanj@gmail.com or 805-382-9794. Thanks

NEW DATE

The Cabaret Concert and Singalong with Reverend Nica, Michael Guinn & Joel Rieke is postponed from September 16 to Saturday, November 11. Thank you for your understanding. If you would like to purchase a ticket for this concert to benefit CVUUF, please contact JoAnn van Reenan at vanreenanj@juno.com.

Easy Way to Help out the Fellowship Financially!

If you shop at Ralphs and use a Club card, part of the cost of your purchase will be donated to our fellowship. I have been coordinating this for years and will readily admit that it's not the most user-friendly website, but I'll explain how you can participate.

The best time to sign up or renew is on or after September 1st.

If you are new, go to www.Ralphs.com. Click on "create an account." Once you've created an account, you can sign in using your email address and password. Then, go to the upper right where it says "welcome, valued customer." View all information, paying attention to the area called Community Rewards. Click on Edit. Search for Conejo Valley Unitarian Universalist Fellowship. Our account number is 80805.

If you are currently signed up (only one family is signed up other than me) go to ralphs.com, then to Community Rewards and follow instructions to renew on or after September 1st.

They have extra tight security so I don't even know who signs up. Thanks. Every little bit counts towards our great fellowship.

Jo Ann Van Reenan, vanreenanj@gmail.com or 805-382-9794.

Chalice Circles

Supporting Spiritual Growth through Reflection, Connection and Service

Registration begins for our 2017-2018 Chalice Circles on Sunday, September 10th.

The purpose of the Chalice Circles is to strengthen and expand the life of the congregation. In Unitarian Universalism we recognize that each person has learned some share of truth and each has gained some hard-won wisdom. In small groups of 8-10 people led by two trained facilitators, Chalice Circles offer safe settings in which to speak from our lives and experiences with the expectation that our words will be heard and respected. These small groups provide an opportunity for individuals to make deep and meaningful connections by sharing their own stories and deeply listening to the stories of others. The results are two-fold: participants grow in their understanding of what is personally meaningful, and in doing so, they help build a caring community. Through the spiritual practices of deep listening, authentic sharing and respectful silence, Chalice Circles affirm and promote our third UU principle - acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth.

Every Chalice Circle reflects upon the monthly congregational worship theme to create opportunities for congregation wide reflection. During the year the members of each Chalice Circle create and complete one service project together to serve the congregation or the wider community.

Groups form anew each church year to help develop wider connections over time. Come share your stories! Look for more information about the Chalice Circles and registration forms at the Program table in Fellowship Hall on September 10th, 17th and 24th. The program will begin in October and run through June 2018.

Contact Carol Flanagan at ChaliceCircles@cvuuf.org for more information.

On Saturday, October 21 we will be holding an all day Workshop at CVUUF (9:30 - 4), led by Rev. Kathleen McTigue from UUCSJ called:

Love Resists

In today's charged and dangerous political climate, fundamental human rights are under attack. We know that our faith and values demand new forms of courageous action from us, yet it can be hard to know how best to channel our time and energy. Love Resists is a unified response led by both the UUA and UUSC, and this workshop will highlight specific and practical ways to bring your congregation into this urgent and holy work. We'll explore discernment practices that help us choose priorities for action and partner with grassroots groups leading the way; how to organize and structure our efforts within our congregations for maximum impact and sustainability; and how to speak and act from the grounding of our faith. Rev. Kathleen McTigue is the Director of the UU College of Social Justice and a convener of the Love Resists collaboration. She served as a parish minister for 25 years before stepping into this role in 2012.

Sign ups will be online via Eventbrite-further details coming soon.

Choir Resumes Wednesday, September 6!

On a trial basis, choir rehearsals will be on Wednesdays at 7:30pm. This allows me to better coordinate with Reverend Nica and rehearse pieces of the service together as needed.

I realize that this change is better for some but also conflicts for one or two of you, and I will look for ways to include anyone who can't make weekly Wednesday rehearsals in other ways.

The CVUUF 2018 Annual Auction Saturday, February 24, 2018!

The Auction Committee is seeking your input to help make this the best and most successful auction ever.

Do you patronize any businesses that you'd like to invite to donate to our Fellowship auction? Please reach out to Auction Committee member Katie Smith for help, or she will be happy to contact the establishment on your behalf. Contact Katie by email at katiebug93065@gmail.com or via her mobile phone number, 805.341.9970.

Please think about offerings to be auctioned. The auction provides a vital contribution to our church budget, and is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy the company of other members, make new friends, and share common interests. Would you like to host an event such as a dinner, tea, a concert, or a tour? Could you offer items, services, or special talents? Do you have access to a vacation/getaway opportunity that could be offered at our auction? These are examples of popular offerings that generate income to support the mission and the well-being of our congregation every year.

Many hands and volunteers are needed to make our auction successful! We need folks to help plan the event, manage donations and bidder data, work with the auction software, organize volunteers, and more. If you are interested in helping, please let us know.

You can contact the Auction Committee by sending an email message to auction@cvuuf.org.

THEME for SEPTEMBER is

TRANSFORMATION

Always be a work in progress! - Emily Liliun

TRANSFORMING ART & IDEAS

How do you experience Transformation?

Share & express it on our Art Wall.

Beginning Sept. 10 and continuing all month we invite everyone to contribute to CVUUF's Art Wall (in Fellowship Hall).

Add to the wire to transform it, with items from the table or bring your own collage items.

Use the paper provided to write your thoughts, poems or ideas: "How are you Transforming?"

Bring your form of expression of transformation to display at CVUUF for the month.

Mosaic Makers: Leading Vital Multicultural Congregations National Conference 2017

It is with great delight and anticipation that we announce the opening of registration for Mosaic Makers: Leading Vital Multicultural Congregations National Conference 2017.

Mosaic Makers is a dynamic gathering and learning community for teams from congregations deeply engaged in the work of building intentional multicultural community. We gather together in spiritual community for two and a half days of workshop, experiential learning, and community building around the theme of strengthening the fabric of Unitarian Universalist multicultural ministries.

This year, we are opening the conference to all congregational leaders who are seeking a path to justice, as this moment in our denomination and society requires us to not only address injustice in the larger world but also in our denomination. We're inviting everyone who wishes to embrace this avenue for disrupting, and eventually dismantling, white supremacy in our culture and in our denomination. Learn to do it – or do it more effectively.

Among our attendees will be UU congregations from around the country who are leaders in multicultural welcome and inclusion, and whose congregations are providing some of the most exciting and dynamic transformation in our movement. Many of these congregations are engaged in combating white supremacy culture. We know that we can learn from each other. We're delighted to help foster real peer-to-peer learning between congregational leaders – professional and lay.

This year's conference has a host of programs and speakers who will develop, enlarge, and amplify our capacity to do this important ministry.

Date: Friday, October 27 through Sunday, October 29; optional Professional Day for UU religious professionals, Monday, October 30

Location: First Unitarian Universalist Church of San Diego, 4190 Front Street, San Diego, CA

Program Highlights:

In addition to the list below of our speakers and thought partners, conference attendees will have an opportunity to tour the US/Mexico border with First UU Church of San Diego partner groups, visit the South Bay Campus, celebrate a culturally authentic Día de Muertos, and more.

Rev. Susan Frederick-Gray, our new UUA president
Dr. Takiyah Nur Amin, Black Lives of UU (BLUU),
Chris Crass Longtime organizer, educator, and author
Dr. Mark Hicks Angus MacLean Professor of Religious Education

Rev. Mitra Rahnema Biracial Iranian American lifelong Unitarian Universalist.

Rev. Dr. Susan Moore Associate Minister of Congregational Life and Pastoral Care at All Souls Church

First UU Church of San Diego Congregational Staff, Leaders, and Local Partners, led by minister Rev. Kathleen Owens, will share learnings from their journey in embracing and authentically living multicultural ministry.

Registration:

We request that participants come as part of a congregational team who are prepared and empowered to deeply engage in this important ministry. We recommend teams of 3 to 5 persons.

Registration Cost: $300

Registration includes three meals and daily transportation

Registration Deadline: Wednesday, October 4

Cancellation Fee $50 until October 4; after October 4, refunds cannot be issued.

Conejo Valley Unitarian Universalist Fellowship

COVENANT OF GOOD RELATIONS

In order to assist us in fulfilling our mission to nurture spiritually courageous people who transform the world through justice and compassion, we the members and friends of the Conejo Valley Unitarian Universalist Fellowship enter into this Covenant of Good Relations.

We, the members and friends of this congregation, value:

- Opening our hearts and minds to those who have traveled journeys unlike ours and whose strengths and challenges may be different from ours.
- A welcoming space for all to speak their truth respectfully.
- The importance of deep listening and respect for each other.
- Relationships with others of all ages, and the gifts that each generation brings to our community.
- The democratic process, through which we give voice to concerns and offer our time and energy to arrive at solutions.

In the wider community, we honor our responsibilities for upholding spiritual ideals, engaging in civil discourse with those of other religious traditions, and promoting our UU values.

In my interactions with others in this congregation, I will:

- Speak honestly and directly to the person(s) with whom I have a concern, using thoughtful, compassionate language.
- Forgive the errors and shortcomings of myself and others as we contribute to our shared ministry and express gratitude for the many gifts we bring.
- Assume good intentions in those with whom I disagree and examine my own part in the disagreement.
- Listen deeply to, and actively seek resolution with those concerned before engaging the Conflict Resolution Committee, Committee on Shared Ministry, the Council or the Board of Trustees in conflict mediation.
- Expect divergent beliefs and opinions and persist in respectful dialogue—especially in times of uncertainty—remaining open to new understandings while doing my part to sustain this Covenant.
- Respect the minister and staff's professionalism, time and privacy.
- Assume responsibility for understanding the church structure and governance model.
- Assume responsibility for keeping informed of church business.

Through this Covenant of Good Relations, it is our intention to foster healthy and productive relations within our church community as we work together to achieve our mission.
